

PAYMENT AND REFUND POLICY

Effective: 01st April 2026

This Payment and Refund Policy (the “Policy”) governs the payment and refund terms between Delta International Management Development Training (“Delta” or “Company”) and its students and customers (“You” or “Student”) in respect of courses, supplements, and aligned or associated educational services (collectively, the “Service”) provided by Delta whether through itself or any of its branches.

Please read this Policy carefully before registering for any Service. By completing the registration process and submitting payment, You acknowledge that You have read and understood this Policy.

1. Payment

1.1 Fees for the Service must be paid in advance, or as per written directions issued by the administration team of Delta, before You commence attending classes or sessions whether in person or online.

1.2 Payments may be made by cash, debit card, credit card, internet banking, or through approved installment or Buy-Now-Pay-Later (“BNPL”) schemes including Tabby, Tamara, or such other schemes as Delta may specify from time to time. Availability of installment or BNPL options is subject to availability and technical feasibility.

1.3 All payment arrangements must be confirmed in writing by the administration team or other authorised personnel of Delta prior to processing.

2. Fees and Remedies

2.1 General Position

Delta’s courses and sessions represent a significant commitment of instructional resources, preparation, and scheduling. Accordingly, fees paid to Delta are non-refundable in all circumstances, including but not limited to:

- a. Non-attendance without prior notice or a valid medical reason as defined in Clause 2.3 below.
- b. Change of mind, personal scheduling conflicts, relocation, or similar personal reasons arising after enrollment.
- c. Partial attendance of a session or course where the Service has been delivered in accordance with its description and without defect.
- d. Dissatisfaction with the Service where the Service has been delivered as described and without defect.

No monetary refund will be issued by Delta under any circumstances. The sole remedy available to You under this Policy, where applicable and at Delta’s sole and absolute discretion, is a Replacement class as set out in Clauses 2.2 and 2.3 below.

2.2 Remedy

If a material defect occurs in the delivery of a session or course, meaning the Service, as delivered, materially differs from its core described content or falls below a reasonable standard, You may, at Delta’s sole and absolute discretion, be offered a Replacement class as Your sole and exclusive remedy.

For the purposes of this clause, minor variations in delivery, differences in instructor style, or issues outside Delta’s reasonable control will not constitute a defect.

Process:

- a. You must notify Delta in writing within three (3) working days of the affected session, providing reasonable details of the alleged defect.
- b. Delta will review the request in its sole and absolute discretion, taking into account the course description, intended learning outcomes, and the standard reasonably expected of the Service.
- c. Where Delta, in its sole discretion, determines that a material defect has occurred, Delta may arrange a replacement class within a reasonable time. The decision of Delta in this regard shall be final and binding.

Limitation:

To the extent permitted by applicable law, a replacement class, where offered at Delta's sole discretion, constitutes the sole and exclusive remedy for any defect in the Service. Delta will not be required to provide monetary refunds, credits, or any other form of compensation.

2.3 Medical Absence

If You are unable to attend a session due to a medical reason, You may apply for a replacement class for the missed session. Whether a replacement class is offered in such circumstances shall be at Delta's sole and absolute discretion, subject to the following conditions being met to Delta's satisfaction:

- a. You must submit a valid medical certificate issued by a medical professional licensed with the UAE Ministry of Health and Prevention, the relevant UAE health regulatory authority, or the equivalent licensing authority in Your country or territory.
- b. The medical certificate must be submitted to the administration team within three (3) working days of the date of the missed session.
- c. Delta reserves the right to verify the authenticity of any medical certificate submitted and to decline to offer a replacement class where it is not satisfied with the certificate or the circumstances presented.

2.4 Installments and BNPL Payments

2.4.1 If You pay the course fee via an approved installment plan or BNPL platform including Tabby or Tamara, Your payment obligations to the relevant third-party platform are governed by Your separate agreement with that platform. Delta is not a party to that agreement and cannot modify or cancel Your obligations to the BNPL provider.

2.4.2 Your liability to the BNPL provider or installment scheme for all outstanding installments continues regardless of attendance, withdrawal, dispute, or any other reason. Delta has no authority over and accepts no responsibility for the terms or enforcement of any BNPL or installment agreement between You and a third-party provider.

2.4.3 Opting for an installment or BNPL payment method does not create any additional rights to cancel enrollment or seek a refund beyond those set out in this Policy.

2.5 Direct Debit Mandates

If You have entered into a direct debit mandate for payment of course fees in installments, the mandate will continue in accordance with the agreed payment schedule until the full course fee has been collected. You may not cancel a direct debit mandate unilaterally prior to full collection of the course fee. Any attempt to cancel or reverse a direct debit mandate prior to full collection will be treated as a breach of Your payment obligations under this Policy.

2.6 Service Interruption by Delta

In the event Delta is unable to deliver a scheduled session due to reasons within Delta's control, Delta will use reasonable efforts to offer You a replacement class at a mutually agreed time.

For the avoidance of doubt, no monetary refund will be issued in the event of a service interruption whether caused by reasons within or outside Delta's control. If a service interruption is caused by circumstances beyond Delta's reasonable control, including force majeure events, government directives, or closures ordered by competent authorities, Delta will use reasonable efforts to reschedule the affected sessions within a reasonable time, subject to changes in the circumstances that caused the interruption. Any replacement class offered in connection with a service interruption shall be at Delta's sole and absolute discretion.

3. Replacement class

For the purposes of this Policy, a replacement class:

- a. Entitles the Student to re-attend the specific session or class to which it relates.
- b. Is offered at a time to be determined by Delta, subject to scheduling availability.
- c. Is personal to the Student and non-transferable.
- d. Carries no monetary or cash value and may not be redeemed for money or any other benefit under any circumstances.
- e. May not be applied or transferred to a different course or session unless expressly agreed in writing by Delta's administration team.
- f. Shall be offered at Delta's sole and absolute discretion, upon Delta's satisfaction that the conditions entitling the Student to it have been fulfilled. Delta's decision whether to offer a replacement class shall be final and conclusive.

4. Complaints and Dispute Resolution

4.1 If You have a complaint regarding the Service, You should raise the matter with Delta's administration team in writing. Delta will acknowledge Your complaint within four (4) working days and use its best efforts to resolve it within a reasonable time.

4.2 If a dispute cannot be resolved through internal resolution or regulatory channels, it shall be referred to the competent courts of the Emirate of Dubai, United Arab Emirates, whose jurisdiction the parties hereby accept.

5. Definitions

"Replacement Class" means a non-monetary remedy, offered solely at Delta's sole and absolute discretion, entitling the Student to re-attend the specific session or class to which it relates, at a time determined by Delta subject to scheduling availability, non-transferable, and carrying no cash or monetary value whatsoever.

"Defect" means a material difference between the Service as described at the time of enrollment and the Service as actually delivered, or a failure to deliver the Service to a reasonable standard, where such difference or failure is not attributable to the Student's own conduct or circumstances.

"Force Majeure" means any event outside Delta's reasonable control including but not limited to acts of God, government directives, pandemic-related restrictions, facility closures ordered by competent authorities, or natural disasters.

6. Policy Updates

Delta reserves the right to update this Policy from time to time. Any updates will be published on Delta's official channels and will apply to enrollments made after the date of publication. Enrollments made prior to any update remain governed by the version of the Policy in effect at the time of enrollment.
